SURVIVORS OF THE WRECK ARE ALL IN SAFETY

Life Preservers Were Made of Reeds. Boats not in Condition and Sent Off Without Crews

Victoria, Jan. 29.—All the survivors of the Valencia have been cared for, the last party of nine who had been stalled at Darling River by a flood reaching the steamer Salvor at Bamfield last night.

Questions that require to be answered in connection with the disaster are as follows:

Why were boat loads of passengers lowered into the water without crews to man or officers to command them?

Why was there no discipline among the officers and men?

Why were plugs for the bottoms of the boats not made to fit?

Why was it impossible for passengers to make the row-locks fit?

Why were the life-preservers made of reeds and not of cork? A passenger named Bunker opened fifty preservers which floated onto the rocks near where he was and found them all the same.

Why did six men of the crew land near Cape Beale in one of the ship's boats without any passengers?

Why did the Queen and two tug boats which stood near here on Wednesday leave her to her fate?

ENORMOUS DEAL IN CANADIAN PACIFIC LAND

Report that an English Syndicate has Bought the Company's Entire Holdings in the Edmonton District.

A story became public on the streets here today which explains the withdrawal of the C. P. R. land from the market in this district and at the same time bears news of one of the largest land deals ever consumated in this part of the country.

The story is that an English syndicate has bought half a million acres of land from the Canadian Pacific in the Edmonton district, practically all the unsold land the company has in this part of the country.

The deal was completed in London during the early part of this month, the purchase price is $4 an acre, and the purchasing syndicate agrees to have the land all settled within a certain period or it reverts to the company.

There is a long story connected with the deal. Some three years ago an Englishman by the name of Ward got an option from the C. P. R. on a million acres of land in the Edmonton district, which he undertook to unload on an English syndicate headed by a certain aristocrat of the Grenfell family, who, besides being immensely wealthy, were identified closely with the construction of the Canadian Pacific road, after whom, in fact, a station is named on the main line. The English syndicate sent men out here to look at the land, and they reported favorably, but for some reason the syndicate did not take the proposition up. In the meantime, however, they acquired Ward's option and whatever rights he had in the land or to it, which they held, and on which grounds they continued negotiations. For a long time these negotiations were carried on apathetically, the C. P. R. at first being the anxious party to make the deal, and then, when prices in land in this country commenced to go up, the syndicate were the anxious ones. Finally, about the first of the year the prospective purchasers made representations to the company that they were ready with their money and that they wanted their million acres. The company's agents, of course, replied that while they had been willing to sell the land at $4 an acre at the time that negotiations were commenced three years earlier, they were now selling the same land for $6 and $8 an acre and could not accept the original price.

Then commenced a long series of pull and cross-hauling on the part of the syndicate to try to get the land at the price named in the original option. The syndicate was composed of men who were immensely wealthy and had great influence on the stock market and in the money market, and there was a certain danger in turning them down that the members of the syndicate might find it within their power to strike back when some deal of importance was on the tapis.

At any rate the outcome of the whole business was that the railroad company compromised with the land purchasing syndicate and sold them half a million acres instead of the original million called for in the option and tacked on a settlement clause which will keep the company busy to fulfil. In the meantime the lots are withdrawn from the market and the purchasing syndicate is supposed to be taking the whole thing over and making a general re-adjustment of prices previous to putting it on the market again at a higher rate.

The land purchased by the syndicate all lies west of the 110th meridian and north of the 53rd latitude.

RECORD PRICE FOR BUSINESS LOT

Another high water mark in the price of realty on Jasper avenue was reached Saturday in a deal put through by the Alberta Agencies, by which F. M. Rattenbury, of Victoria, the celebrated architect, and R. D. Ker, of Brachman-Ker, become the owners of the northwest corner of Jasper and Second.

The price paid for the property was $30,000, which figures out to $600 a front foot.

The deal is one of the quickest that has been consumated in Edmonton for some time. On Thursday of last week Mr. Rattenbury reached the city in company with Mr. R. D. Ker, direct from Victoria, having spent a couple of days in Calgary on the way. Mr. Rattenbury had not been in town an hour before he decided that realty in the city was a good investment, and he and Mr. Ker commenced to look around for a good buy. Inside of 24 hours they fixed on the corner of Jasper and Second, and negotiations were were opened for the property. The price was satisfactory and the deal was made without delay. The money was paid this morning and the property is now the absolute property of Mr. Rattenbury and Mr. Ker.

The lot in question lies 50 feet along Jasper and 150 feet along Second street. At present it is occupied by a small building in which Captain Harbottle recently opened a real estate office..

Mr. Rattenbury and Mr. Kerr are buying the lot purely as an investment and it is their intention to commence at once, as soon as weather permits, the construction of a one-storey brick block covering the entire lot and facing on both streets. This building is not intended as a permanent structure, but merely to guarantee interest on the investment until such time as the town grows large enough to justify them in putting up a sky-scraper. Mr. Rattenbury figures that it will not be more than three or four years at the outside before they will be ready to erect a modern office building on his lot.

FAST HOCKEY EXPECTED TO-NIGHT

En route, C. & E. Train
Monday, January 29.

Team on today's train to arrive at 3.45. Nine men in party. Boys in good shape and hope to be able to put up a very good game tonight. How is the ice?

W. H. REID,
Manager Rossland Hockey Club.

The foregoing telegram was received by the hockey management at an early hour this morning, and guarantees that the boys from Rossland will be here on time and ready to go on the ice in A1 condition.

The Rosslenders left the golden city on Friday night and laid over in Calgary on Sunday. After playing their four games here they may arrange for a game in Calgary on the way home, but nothing definite is known yet.

The local boys are in first class shape, and there is certainly going to be the hockey game of all history so far as Edmonton is concerned. The ice at 2.30 this afternoon was in perfect condition, the warm weather not having been quite warm enough to raise the temperature inside the rink to a thaw.

THE BIG BONSPIEL IS OVER

Edmonton's big bonspiel, the biggest ever held here, is over and the swish of the brooms, the shouts of the 'spielers, and the crowds of spectators are but a memory. The rink is deserted, save for an occasional visitor, who wanders in and gazes mournfully around the vacant rooms, and remembers with a sigh the good times that were going on last week.

Nearly all the visiting rinks departed from the city on Saturday, as the last of the games of the bonspiel events were finished up on Saturday morning. The visitors were all unanimous in the opinion that this has been the most successful bonspiel of the four that have been held by the Edmonton Curling Club. They were delighted with the welcome they received and with the kind treatment they received from the hands of Edmonton curlers.

Three of the trophies up for competition were captured by outsiders, the Grand Challenge shield going south to Lacombe, won by the rink skipped by Trimble. The Smart trophy went to Smart, of Calgary, who defeated Innisfail in the finals, and the Gallagher cup, played for by visitors only, was won by Stephenson, of Red Deer. Hugh Campbell, with his crack rink, won the honors for Edmonton, capturing the John A. McDougall cup.

ARRESTED ON AN OLD CHARGE

James Manes Captured in New York for Share in Liverpool Robbery.

New York, January 29.— Detectives of this city arrested a man for whom the police of the world have been searching for four years. The prisoner who was picked up on the street by mere chance, is James Manes, formerly American bookmaker, who is wanted in connection with the famous Bank of Liverpool robbery. On November 22, 1901, in which the English concern, through forgery and conspiracy, was defrauded of $300,000. Subsequently $38,000 of this amount was recovered from the conspirators, the bank having sustained a net loss of more than $400,000.

CALGARY WILL PLAY IN EDMONTON

Tomorrow night the Thistle Intermediates will appear for the first time this season on the home ice in a game with the Calgary intermediates, who were defeated by the Thistles in Calgary on New Year's day by a score of 3-1. The game tomorrow nigth is to decide who will have possession of the silver medals presented by Frank Goode and will be by no means a slow game. The little Thistles will have the same fast bunch they had when they visited the south country, and they haven't got the least notion of letting the medals get away from the city. They have secured the services of Campbell for right wing in place of Oscar Hetu, who has not recovered from his late illness. This will be the Thistle aggregation: Sutherland, goal; Haskell, point; Johnston, cover point; "Cookie" Gavreau, rover; Banford, centre, Clark, left wing; and Campbell, right wing.

MIGHT PROFIT BY EDMONTON'S EXPERIENCE

Edmonton people will be more than usually interested in the attempts of a representative of R. P. Inglis to begin negotiations with the city of Calgary for securing the street railway franchise for that city. While the results of these efforts are not yet definitely known, the attitude of the Calgary press and of the public generally appears to be in opposition to granting such franchise to a corporation. The history of Edmonton's dealings with the gentleman now reaching for the Calgary franchise will lead the people of this city to commend the views of their southern neighbors. The agreement between this city and Mr. Inglis was founded on the assumption that a company would be willing to sacrifice something during the early years of operation, relying for restitution on the future traffic created by the development of the city. In this belief the citizens of Edmonton endorsed an agreement supposedly calculated to secure to the city a car system before such enterprise might reasonably be supposed to be immediately profitable. The history of events has quite effectively exploded this theory. Not only did the company not construct the line within the specified time, but forfeited $10,000 rather than fulfil the agreement and still has the hardihood to lay claim to the railway franchise. The reasonable conclusion is that the corporation would not construct the line until the prospects were bright for early and satisfactory dividends. But when this point has been reached a franchise is too valuable to be handed over to a corporation, and believing that this time has come the people of Edmonton are standing and will stand for the immediate construction of a municipal street car system and would resolutely oppose any proposal of further dickerings with franchise hunters. Calgary might do worse than take a leaf out of Edmonton's experience and avoid any negotiations designed or liable to involve her street railway franchise in a maze of legal entanglements. Calgary will and should have a street railway system only when such system promises to pay expenses and when that time has been reached the franchise is too valuable to be in any other hands than those of the city.

A MARES NEST
(Free Press)

For some weeks past the junior Opposition organ in Winnipeg, the Toronto News and other papers opposed to the Government have been in the throes of bringing forth a scandal against the Interior Department. As a roorback just before the close of the Provincial campaign in Saskatchewan, they published an announcement that a million acres of land in that Province had been sold at a low price to a speculative company. And worse still the sale had been made to the exclusion of certain Winnipeg real estate operators with whom parties connected with the chief protesting newspapers had an interest. After harping on this string for some days the statement was switched to the assertion that a large tract of land had been sold or given to a railway company within the past few weeks. As this did not seem likely to stick there was another change of time and it was asserted that an exchange had been made with the Canadian Northern Railway of valueless wooded land in the Duck and Riding Mountains for rich prairie land further west. So far the statement made had not been brought down to particulars. There was a hazy area of indefinite land which had been acquired by a problematical company under unknown conditions. The only definite position that the accusers were willing to tie to was that whether there was any land or not, whether there had been any exchange or not, under any conceivable conditions there was necessarily a scandal involving huge illegitimate profit to somebody from which profits the protestors and their friends had been excluded for which exclusion they were bound to get even by throwing mud.

After a six weeks' run of this scandal feature only on Saturday last did the assailants of the Government condescend to come down to particulars, when there was published in the junior Opposition organs in this city a map including townships 27 to 36, ranges 9 to 26 west of the third principal meridian under the heading "Land recently acquired by the C.N. Railway Company" with accompanying letterpress indicating that this was the scandal and this was the land to which reference had all along been made. Now that a definite statement has been made it became possible to deal with this mares nest.

The tract shown upon the map is an area set apart not recently or within the past six weeks as alleged, but some two years ago, out of which the Canadian Northern Railway Company is entitled to select land in satisfaction of its land grant of 2,180,928 acres earned by the construction of certain parts of its present lines under the Hudson's Bay Railway charter and rights to land granted by the Government which ceased to hold office in 1896. An Order-in-Council of March 5, 1905, granted to the Winnipeg and Great Northern Railway, whose rights were subsequently acquired by the present Great Northern Railway Company, the right to a "free grant of not "more than 6,400 acres for each mile of "railway within Manitoba and not "more than 12,800 acres for each mile "in the Northwest Territories." The same Order-in-Council reserved from sale and settlement certain lands "for "the purpose of being granted to the "said Winnipeg and Great Northern "Railway Company in so far as the "same may be found fairly fit for "settlement."

The Canadian Northern Railway having become entitled by the completion of a certain number of miles of their line as already stated to something over two million acres of land fairly fit for settlement within a tract set apart from which this amount of land was to be selected in odd numbered sections represented some years ago that owing in the first place to the small proportion of such land within the tract mentioned and afterwards to the fact that the C.P.R. under their right of selection, had taken lands within the C. N. R. tract, and because of the odd-numbered sections which had been included in Doukhobor colonies and because lands which the C. N. R. had been selected as fairly fit for settlement had afterwards to be given up because they were included in the Riding and Duck Mountain forest reserves, the company was not able to find the two million acres fairly fit for settlement to which it was entitled within the tract at first set apart for its selection. In order that the company might be able to secure the lands which had been earned of the quality which their agreement called for the C. N. R. Company was permitted to select lands in the tract set apart for the Manitoba Northwestern Railway and in that set apart for the Regina, Qu'Appelle and Long Lake railway, after the grants to those companies had been fully satisfied, and also in the tract shown on the map which has been published. The company was given by the former Government over two million acres of land fairly fit for settlement. The present Government has given the company only what the preceding Government bargained that the company should get on certain conditions. The company fulfilled its part of the bargain and called upon the present Government to fulfil the bargain entered into by their predecessors. This has been done, and this is the scandal with which the Opposition newspapers have been attempting for six weeks past to discredit the Government.

IRATE PARENT ALLEGES CRUELTY

Says Teachers and Principal of MacKay School are Guilty of Barbarous Treatment.

Edmonton, Jan. 27th.

Editor Bulletin:

Dear Sir:

I want to enter a vigorous protest against the conditions which exist in the MacKay Avenue public school which conditions, I think, call for some radical measures on the part of the parents of the children who are attending there. It has now come to a time when our children, in order to get an education have to take the chances of suffering permanent bodily harm, and a daily abuse from their teachers, and these conditions, Mr. Editor I claim should not be allowed to exist in a country like Canada or a city like Edmonton. The worst feature of the whole case, as far as I see it is that the mothers of the boys and girls who are being maltreated and abused are powerless to do anything other than to take their children from the school altogether and by so doing deprive them of an education.

With regard to the Mitchell case which came up here recently, I have very little to say. The case has been tried by the tribunal set by law for that purpose, and while the verdict of the trustees has, seem anything but what the parents of the children attending the school have a right in justice to ask, we will consider that incident closed. In this connection however I would like to mention that on Friday, the 19th, when I asked the Chairman of the trustees to hold an investigation with regard to this case he said: "Why, are you making a fuss? It was not your kid that was hurt!" Mr. Editor, I ask have we to wait till our own are brought home perhaps injured for life (many have been) before we call for justice? He also stated that he would not believe one word a child said about the school or the teacher, no matter whose child it was. In a law court both sides have to be heard. Are the trustees of the school simpler than the law.

So much for the board's judicial stand on the Mitchell case. Now with regard to the conditions which exist in that school at the present time, maybe a few sentences might throw a little light.

On Wednesday, Jan. 17th, my daughter aged 11 and her class mates were given a question in fractions, the majority failed in their answer were kept in all the morning recess. At noon Jessie brought her book with the question home, said she did not know how to do it. I asked why she had not gone to the teacher for help. Her answer was "It is no use the teacher says she has shown us and we ought to know. We are to be kept in all recess and after four if we don't get it right. One of her brothers helped her. On her return to school, she was told the question was wrong, and was kept in both at recess and after four, then told to work it. When I came in at six, the child was simply wild. I can't do it, I don't know how, and I Won't do it, the teacher wants to lick us, and she can, so there." I said "Jessie, you will not go to the carnival to-night till your work is done." A friend staying with me took her in hand, and then found that it was not the answer that was wrong, but the method of doing the work. When the time came to go to the carnival I let her go on, condition the question would be fully finished after her return. At half past eleven I was told the question was finished and proved. Not knowing the work was done on a scrap sheet of paper. I sent her to bed. The next morning she took her empty book to school (Willfully I admit), at noon she rushed into the house with "she licked me, she did,, she asked whether I would be punished or go into a school, but Annie Clark said she would rather go down than be whipped. (Can teachers reduce, as a punishment? It is done I know, but have they the right? As each of her brothers came in, she went through the whole performance until I had to threaten punishment to cool her down —What was the good result attained —Dislikeliness and a nervous strain. Ask the doctors the results of such discipline continued for months to a nervous child.

Go back to last winter. The boys played for weeks in the old abandoned school house on McKay Avenue with the teachers knowledge, though not their permission. Remember the boys were never forbidden to go in. One day three or four, boy like, charged some of the windows with their hockey sticks, breaking a lot of glass. The matter was reported. The principal of Queens Avenue school came over. All were told to stand who had been in the old school. They were all accused of breaking the glass. When they declared they had not, were called liars. (later on the Principal called them liars to myself) He thrashed till he was tired, Then told Miss Chegwin to send the rest over to him the following day. Nearly every boy came to school armed with a ruler. I went straight to Mr. Alex Taylor. His self, all I had

WESTERN STOCKMEN HELD CONVENTION

Favor Brand Recorder for Each Province and Re-Allottment Every Four Years

In the Board of Trade rooms, Calgary on Wednesday last, a conference was held of representative stockmen from Alberta and Saskatchewan, together with deputations from the Range Stock Growers' Association, Medicine Hat, the Western Stock Growers' association, with headquarters at McLeod, and the Provincial Live Stock associations, of which C. W. Peterson is secretary; The Governments of both provinces were represented, Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture, and Geo. Harcourt, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, and J. R. C. Honeyman, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, being present.

In opening the conference, Hon. Mr. Finlay stated that the most important questions to be discussed was whether the recording of brands should be continued as at present, or whether each province should establish a brand system of its own. There were also questions connected with the inspection of stock which he wished to confer with them about and to listen to any suggestions they had to make.

Mr. Honeyman, recorder of brands for both provinces at present, said the first brand recorded in the west was in 1878. In 1897 the recording of brands was taken charge of by the legislature of the Northwest Territories, and continued up till the present time. Now there was the question of the division of the records or retaining the present system.

R. G. Matthews, secretary of the Western Stock Growers' association, presented a resolution passed by the executive of the association, calling for the establishing of separate recording of brands in each province, and providing for a neutral zone of fifty miles on either side of the boundary. The question of the neutral zone was keenly discussed, and finally dropped, and the following resolutions passed:

Moved by Messrs. McDonald and C. W. Peterson, and resolved, that a brand recorder's office be established for each province.

Moved by A. R. Springett and E. H. Maunsell, and resolved, That all owners of existing recorded brands be given one year from the date of the passing of the proposed law, to record their brands in either or both provinces by paying the established fee.

Moved by C. W. Peterson, and A. R. Springett, and resolved, That a re-allotment of all brands recorded up to and including the year 1902 be provided for in 1906, and that the brands alloted in each succeeding year be re-alloted within a period of four years after the date of issue, and that a fee of $1 be charged on re-allotment.

In support of the last resolution, Mr. Peterson said it was the general idea that a lot of dead brands were recorded which should be liberated by a re-allotment of all brands. This would be a big task but he thought it would only be right that it should be done in order to clean the books and make a new beginning in each province. In order to keep the books clear of alloted but unused brands, a re-allotment should be made every four years, and in order to cover expenses he thought that a fee of $1 for each allotment was sufficient. By reallotment of brands issued up to 1902, it would do away with large amount of work, of realloting at once, and by re-alloting each year thereafter, the work would be going on constantly.

The following resolutions were then passed:

Moved by R. G. Matthews and A. B. McDonald, That a practical brand man be employed with the brand recorders to decide on the brands for future issuance.

Moved by Messrs. Douglas and Small That both Governments confer for the object of passing similar legislation in regard to brand ordinances, and all laws in reference to the interests of stockmen in general.

Moved by A. R. Springett, and E. H. Maunsell, That every railroad company operating any railroad or branch thereof within the limits of the province which shall negligently injure or kill any cattle or horses by running any engine or cars over or against such animals, shall be liable to the owners of such animals for the damage sustained by him by reason thereof. The killing or maiming of such animals shall be prima facie evidence of negligence on the part of said company, and that the Provincial Government take up the matter and have the same embodied in the ordinance.

In support of this resolution Mr. Springett stated that now that the C. P. R. had fenced their line of railway, they refused to pay the compensation agreed upon some years ago for animals killed on the track. This he claimed, was a hardship, because it compelled ranchers to go to law with a wealthy company like the C. P. R.

Mr. Springett quoted from the Montana law, which makes railways liable for all animals killed, whether the track is fenced or not.

Western Sockmen Held Convention

Moved by C. W. Peterson, and A. E. Cross, That the Minister of Agriculture be requested to impress on all railway companies the necessity of complying with the provisions of Chap. 33, C. O., and that the co-operation of the Mounted Police be requested.

Regarding this resolution it was the general feeling that many animals killed were buried by the section men without giving notice to the public as should be done.

Moved by A. McDonald, and W. R. Springett, That when formulating the statutes dealing with the inspection of stock, provision should be made for the inspection of hides, on the lines of the ordinance at one time in force in the Territories, which ordinance was thoroughly endorsed by the stockmen. It was as follows-

Chap. 76, Con. Ordinance, "All persons other than butchers who occasionally slaughter meat cattle for beef shall exhibit the hide or hides of such beef at the time and place the beef is offered for sale. And before such beef is offered for sale the hide or hides shall be recorded and punched by an inspector. Every butcher slaughtering meat cattle shall keep the hides of such cattle at his place of slaughtering for a period of not less than seven days, and such hides shall be open to the inspection of the public and shall not be sold or disposed of in any manner until they have been recorded and punched.

Moved by A. McDonald, That the following motion be adopted, This association by its executive committee, would urge upon the Government the necessity that exists for the services of permanent stock inspectors at certain central points. At such a point as Calgary it is very necessary that a Brand expert should be stationed all the year round, whereas in Winnipeg, an expert brand man is required during the shipping season from the 1st of June to the 31st of December. At present the association is employing such an official in Winnipeg, but lack of funds prevent the continuance of his services after the end of the year. We would therefore urge the strong necessity that exists for the government to assist us and we would suggest that they defray the expense of the salary of the expert after that date and that he should be stationed in Calgary, and that on the first of June next they appoint a second inspector for the work in Winnipeg. These inspectors would not interfere with the present system of inspection in vogue, but experience has taught us that it is absolutely necessary in addition to th elocal inspector, that expert men should be stationed at the points suggested. We would respectfully suggest that this association is in the best position to know the right men for these positions and that the association should be permitted to recommend the men and control their work. If the Government do not see their way clear to agree to this, then a government grant should be made to this association for the purpose of carrying on this important work.

Mr. Matthews stated that the Inspector at Winnipeg last season found sixty head of cattle wrongly shipped and not belonging to those who shipped them. The inspector collected the price of the cattle from the shippers and turned it over to the owners. The feeling was that the shippers should have been prosecuted.

Before closing the conference it was moved by A. E. Cross and Col. Walker that in the opinion of this meeting of representatives of the various stock organizations of Alberta and Saskatchewan, it would be a public calamity should the Dominion Government decide to withdraw the N. W. M. P. and that we would respectfully urge upon the Government the absolute necessity of maintaining the force for several years yet, in the most efficient condition possible.

The stockmen expressed themselves as being pleased that the province had a minister of agriculture that was willing to confer with the stockmen and learn their opinions on the various questions.

The "Royal Household" Brand on Flour is your protection.

The "Royal Household" brand on a barrel or bag of flour means that Ogilvies guarantee that flour to be the best—that if it is not satisfactory you may return it and get your money back.

Ogilvies stand behind every pound of flour that bears their "Royal Household" Brand.

That is your protection.

Most people do not realize the necessity of absolute purity in flour—great care is taken to use only pure milk, pure water, etc., but flour, that one thing that forms the greatest part of their food, is taken on chance—but they are learning better.

As Royal Household Flour is the only flour in this country thoroughly purified and sterilized by electricity is it not worth while to give it at least at trial.

It bears the stamp of the most responsible makers. You can have no better guarantee than the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co.

THE ADMIRALTY POLICY

Edinburgh, Jan. 27.—"Some people insist on the necessity of contribution from the colonies to the navy. For my part, I should be quite prepared to give the protection of the British navy to all the colonies as a free gift." So said Lord Tweedmouth of the Admiralty at a dinner in Edinburgh.

to do was to protest and the matter would be looked into. Two days went by, then the boys were sent up and thrashed, to such an extent that one boy on getting outside had to sit down till strength came back to his legs to carry him home. Stanley Young, at his father's bidding, refused to submit, and was told he could not return to his class till he did. At that time there was no other means of education in the town: he went back the next day, and was thrashed. I went again to Mr. Taylor for an explanation, which was as follows:—The board had talked it over and decided that as the Principal had said he would thrash to uphold his authority in the school he must do so even though he had to apologize afterwards." Those were Mr. Taylor's words to me. Again the result stands out plainly, as soon as the boys hands were well enough to hold their sticks they finished up the glass that had been left. Reader, put yourself in their shoes one moment before passing judgment. My space is limited or you might know more. Men and women, look back on your own school life, and say whether unjust and vicious whipping ever did any good, except as a relief valve for the teacher's temper, and those like myself, have been educated in schools, where to strike a child once, meant instant dismissal, that the public may judge which of the two methods produce the better results. Teachers who temper justice with mercy, thereby holding the respect of the children and with that a desire on their part to do their best.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.
It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.
It is safer, too.
Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.
A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once used, my customers will buy no other.—L. Elsley, Nanaimo, B.C."
If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell
